FURTHER NOTES ON EARLY REDMAN HISTORY.

BY W. GREENWOOD, Barrister-at-law.

Nothing in Redman history has so successfully eluded discovery as the identity of Norman, the first bearer of the name of Redman and founder of the family. By a fortunate accident this difficulty has now been removed, and it is possible for the first time to carry the family story back to a period before ever it became identified with the name of Redman.

Some time ago, when Mr. William Farrer, the learned Editor of so many early Lancashire records, was going through the ancient charters in the muniment room of Levens Hall, he discovered a very old Redman deed which had escaped the notice of the Historical MSS. Commissioner. Of this deed, which is of peculiar interest and value, the following is a copy:—

Notum sit omnibus tam presentibus quam futuris, clericis et laicis, quod ego Will'mus de Lancastra dedi et concessi NORMANNO DE HIELAND, pro suo homagio et servicio, Lefnes per suas rectas divisas, in Bosco, in plano, in pratis, in pascuis, sibi et suis heredibus, de me et meis heredibus, tenere libere et quiete et pro suo libero servicio, scilicet pro octo solidis inde annuatim reddendis, salva piscaria et aqua de Kent usque ad Sandpol, et salvis austurconibus, et cervo, et cerva, et apre, et lea. His testibus, domina Helewisa, sponsa sua, Simone de tuif (?), Anselme, huctredo filio Osolf, Rogero filio Ade, Roberto mustel, Ric. fil alardi, Jurdano, Gileberto fratre suo, Gileberto de Croft, Johanne clerico et aliis pluribus audientibus, hoc

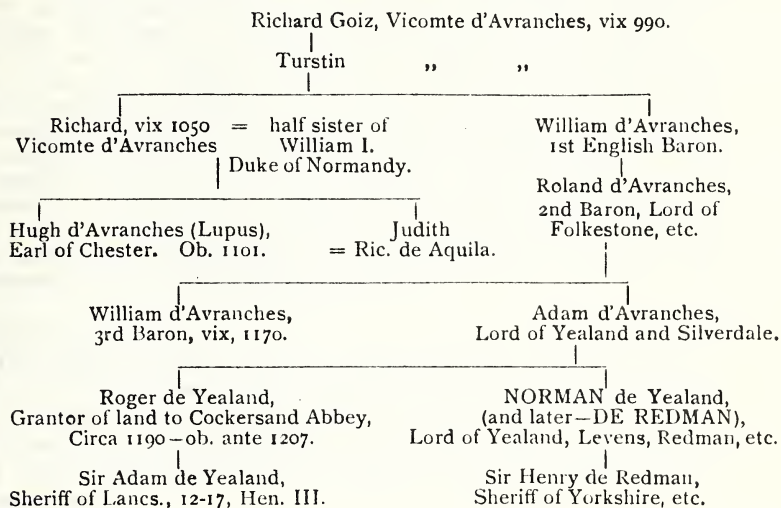

As will be seen, this charter, the date of which is probably circa 1170, is a grant of Levens by William of Lancaster II., Baron of Kendal, to Norman de Hieland, or Yealand, in Lancashire, who was, beyond all question, the Norman who was later known as "de Redman," father of Henry de Redman, into whose hands Levens came in 1188.

Thus it is possible to identify Norman de Redman as a member of the family of Yealand, an identification supported by further evidence which places it beyond any possibility of doubt; and, in the opinion of Mr. Farrer, Colonel Parker, of Browsholme Hall, and other highly competent judges, he was in all probability a son of the Adam d'Avranches to whom William de Lancaster I. granted Yealand and Silverdale in the middle of the 12th century. (Farrer's Lancashire Pipe Rolls, etc., p. 410.)

This Adam appears to have been a cadet of the great Norman family of the Abrincis, Viscounts of Avranches, which, according to Collins, "flourished in Normandy with great dignity and grandeur from the time of its first creation into a Sovereign Kingdom, A.D.

912, to the Conquest of England, in the year 1066, having been always ranked among the foremost there, either for nobleness of blood or power, and having had the government of many castles and strongholds in that Duchy. The patriarch of this house was an uncle of Rollo, first Duke of Normandy; and one of its most distinguished members was Hugh d'Avranches (Hugh Lupus), Earl of Chester and nephew of the Conqueror.

The following pedigree will make this early Redman descent clear:—

Calendar of Documents, France (Round); Nicolas's Historic Peerage; Farrer's Lancashire Fines, Pipe Rolls and Early Charters, and Private MSS., kindly placed at my disposal, etc., etc.

It may be well, in concluding these notes on the Levens and Harewood periods of the family history, to place on record what I have been able to discover, since writing my former papers, of the wives of the earliest Redmans.

The wife of Henry de Redman, son of Norman, was a daughter of Adam, Dean of Lancaster (and not of Kirkham, as has hitherto been thought). In 31 Hen. II. (1184-5), "Adam Decanus r.c. de c.s. ut liceat ei maritare filiam suam, quæ erat de donatione Regis, filio Normanni de Redeman (Lancs. Pipe Rolls, Farrer, p. 52). Mr. Farrer identifies Adam, the Dean, as a son of Waldeve, of Ulverston and brother of William de Tatham and Augustin de Heton; and it is probable that the lands in Pennington, from which Henry granted a rent of 3s. for the maintenance of certain lamps in Furness Abbey, formed part of his wife's dower. (Furness Coucher, p. 509. Lancs. Pipe Rolls, p. 158.)

Amabel, wife of Sir Matthew I., was either a Stuteville or widow of a Stuteville, for she brought to her husband lands in Carleton and Dregg, which at the time were Stuteville fees and which were later the dowry of Joan Stuteville, daughter and co-heir of Nicholas Stuteville, on her marriage with Hugh de Wake (Circa 1230). It is not improbable that Amabel was sister of Nicholas, Lord Stuteville, and aunt of Joan Wake.

The second Sir Matthew appears to have married a Camberton (of the family of Gospatric, Earl of Northumberland and Dunbar); and the second wife of the second Henry must have been a co-heiress of the same family, as explained in an earlier paper. (N.G. Vol. V., p. 5)

The identity of Margaret, wife of the third Sir Matthew, is disclosed by the following entry—Patent Roll, 33 Ed. III., part 1., m. 3:—“Matthew de Redman and Margaret, his wife, late wife of Hugh de Moriceby, hold one third of the Manor of Culgarth in Westmorland in dower” (Ao. 1359); while Lucy, first wife of the fourth Sir Matthew, was probably one of the daughters of John de Twisleton, whose matrimonial fate was placed in the hands of Matthew’s father (Sir Matthew III. above), and Margaret his wife. (Abb. Rot. Orig. Grossi Fines, p. 256.)

Some of these alliances, it is quite conceivable, may never be absolutely established; but I think it is unlikely that the identifications, most of which have the support of Colonel Parker, who is incomparably the best living authority on Redman history and a genealogist of rare skill and thoroughness, will ever be seriously disturbed.

The following notes the result of a search made by a fellow-antiquary in the first three volumes of Plantaganet-Harrisons MS. Notes from the Plea Rolls may here be fittingly inserted. They contain, it is believed, all the Redman memoranda in the first three volumes, but it may be added that a search through the first twelve volumes disclosed no information of any importance:—

Vol. I., p. 422. Westmorland. Mathew de Redeman appoints Thomas fil. Gilbert or Gilbert fil. Richard to act for him in a plea against William de Lancaster concerning a fine made. (Coram Rege., No. 57, Easter 27, H. 3, m. 3.)

Vol. II., p. 221. Westmorland. Mathew de Redman engaged in a plea of trespass against Adam Ward and others. (Coram Rege., No. 126, Michaelmas 18, E. 1, m. 39.)

P. 248. Yorkshire. William Redman concerned with Hugh fil. Henry and others in entering Brian fil. Alan de Cotherston’s park at Cotherston with bows and arrows, etc. These are cross actions. (Coram Rege., No. 135, Michaelmas 20, E. 1, m. 41-2.)

P. 291. Lancashire. Richard fil. Roger de Aston is plaintiff against Mathew de Redeman and William de Aston for conspiracy and trespass. (Coram Rege., No. 152, Trinity 25, E. 1, m. 35d.)

P. 690. John Redmayne on a jury at Bishop’s Auckland 19 January, 9 Henry VII.

- P. 809. Lonsdale. Mathew de Redman, Sheriff (Quo Warranto Rolls, Lancashire, Michaelmas 30, H. 3.)
- P. 921. Westmorland. John de Morisby, son of Hugh de Morisby, and brother and heir of Hugh de Morisby, junior, pleads that he had enfeoffed William Hyne and Christopher de Redmane of lands inherited from his mother Cristina, daughter and heir of Sir John de Hoton Chivaler. (5 Henry 4.)
- Vol. III., p. 101. Westmorland. Mathew de Redman concerned in a plea of disseisin as a defendant against Walter de Stirkland as to common of pasture in Lupton. John de Wassington is his surety. (Coram Rege, Michaelmas 9, E. 2, m. 85.)
- P. 284. Cumberland. Thomas de Beauchamp of Staffol with Thomas de Redeman and Joan his wife, and many others are plaintiffs against Adam de Outelay, vicar of the church of Laysingby, for maliciously setting fire to the plaintiff's trees at Staffol. (Coram Rege., No. 71, Easter 18, E. 2, m. 125.)
- P. 925. Westmorland. Mathew de Redmane plaintiff against Gilbert Neleson and others in a plea of trespass. (Coram Rege., No. 131, Easter 34, E. 3, m. 55d.)
- P. 1069. Kent. Lettice Redman occurs. (22 Elizabeth.)

LINCOLN MARRIAGE LICENCES.

Ael.—Liber Aelmer, Linc. Archid.

Act Book.—Consistory Court Act Books of Wills, &c.

D.—"Marriage Bonds (Divers Years)" in brown paper covers.

C.—Bishop Chaderton's Register.

F.—Faculty Book, 1611-1693

Licences not marked with one of these abbreviations are from the Marriage Bonds (which the Editor arranged in portfolios, according to date, some years ago), supplemented by the allegations where forthcoming.

The pre-Reformation Marriage Dispensations in the Bishop's Registers are not included in this Series.

THE ROLL OF THE FREEMEN OF YORK, AND A PEDIGREE OF HANSON OR HANSOME.*

In editing for the "Surtees Society" the ancient roll of freemen of York, Dr. Francis Collins calls attention to the importance to genealogy of the contents. I have drawn up a pedigree of namesakes of my own shewing fifteen names in six generations, beginning with "Thomas Haneson, marryner" in 40 Elizabeth. The spelling is mostly wrong, as I shew by some side notes, supplied to me by the courtesy of the editor of THE NORTHERN GENEALOGIST. It seemed desirable not to embarrass the simplicity of the record by further information, as I could have done*. The record can be carried later still by consulting the MS. roll, which will, I hope, be put in print to the present day. The work is not antiquarian enough for the Surtees Society; but is important to the genealogist. Mr. Robert Davies printed a list, but it is a bald one, and does not shew the entries by patrimony, and stops at 1835. There are much earlier entries as "Robertus Hamsone de Tollerton bocher" in 1354 and "Robertus Hanson de Housum (Howsham) pestour" in 1357; but they are disconnected.

In the pedigree there is one Robert, the rest being John, Thomas or William. In 1712 Michael (who was certainly a Hansom, according to a marriage licence), and in 1724 Richard, new names come in. The latter is my great-great-grandfather; and a son Richard, two grandsons, Henry and Richard, and two great-grandsons, both Joseph, took up their freedom by patrimony. No connection is shewn with the pedigree; it is so far useless to me, but it may be useful to other people, and worthy of a place in THE NORTHERN GENEALOGIST.

JOSEPH S. HANSOM.

* The entries from the Poll Books are allowable, as the freemen were the voters for the City of York.

BLUNDELL OF LIVERPOOL.

The following pedigree has been compiled chiefly from information supplied by Miss Mary Blundell and from Wills proved at Chester. It is thought that it will be interesting to readers of "THE NORTHERN GENEALOGIST," some of whom it is hoped may be able to add to the particulars here given.

GEO. BLUNDELL LONGSTAFF.

- I. JOHN BLUNDELL mentioned in the inventory of his son's goods taken 27 Dec., 1633. He had issue:—
- II. BRYAN BLUNDELL, "marriner, of Liverpool," died 1633. Administration granted to his widow Elizabeth 17 Feb., 1633-4. By his wife Elizabeth he had issue:—
- III. WILLIAM BLUNDELL, "marriner, of Liverpool," died 1688. Administration granted to his widow Mary 7 Nov., 1688. John Blundell and William Preeson occur in it, both being then alive. He married in 1661 Mary Preeson. She died in 1720, aged 88. They had issue:—
 1. William Blundell.
 2. Bryan Blundell, of whom hereafter.
 1. Elizabeth Blundell, married William Bankes, died 1725, aged 62.
 2. Dorothy Blundell, married . . . Lace, and died in 1727, aged 65.
 3. Sarah Blundell.
- IV. BRYAN BLUNDELL (son of William) was a merchant of Liverpool, and Mayor of that town 1721-8. He died in 1756 aged 81, and his will was proved 13 Feb., 1756. He mentions in it his sons William, Bryan, Richard, and Jonathan; his grandchildren Bryan B., Elinor B., Elizabeth B., Sarah B., Mary B., his son-in-law James Crosbie, his daughter Elizabeth, wife of the said James Crosbie, and their children William C., Bryan C., Mary C., and their child about to be born; Margaret, wife of his son William; Bridget, daughter of his son Jonathan; his grandson Samuel Shaw; his great-grandsons Samuel Shaw, Bryan Shaw, Christopher Shaw, and John Shaw; his poor relations in London, namely Anne Wilkinson and Elizabeth Blundell; his sister Anne Edge; Jane Tarleton; Martha Lady; his cousins Martha Car . . . and Jane Banks.

Dated 1 May, 1752. Seal—Arms, Lozengy; crest, a squirrel.

A First Codicil dated 7 July, 1753, is sealed with—A chevron between three trefoils, being the arms of Williamson.

A Second Codicil dated 6 Nov., 1755, mentions that James Crosbie is dead, and is sealed with the Blundell Arms and Crest.

Bryan Blundell married three times. His first wife, whom he married in 1696, was named Williamson, but whether she was a Miss Samwell (or Samel) Williamson, or the widow of a Mr. Samuel Williamson seems uncertain. She died in 1704 aged 33, having had issue by Bryan Blundell as follows:—

1. William B. died young.

2. John B. died young.

1. Mary B. died young.

2. Hannah B. married Samuel Shaw, and had issue, Samuel Shaw, whose four sons Samuel, Bryan, Christopher and John, were mentioned in the will of their great-grandfather.

Bryan Blundell's third wife, Mary Cunliffe, whom he married in 1729, died in 1730 aged 41, without issue.

Bryan Blundell's second wife was Elizabeth Livesley. They were married in 1708, and she died in 1725 aged 43. They had issue:—

1. WILLIAM BLUNDELL of Liverpool, merchant, died 1766 aged 51. His will dated 16 May, 1766, was in Chancery in 2 Oct., 1769, and was proved 2 Apr., 1771. It mentions a brother-in-law, Robert Richmond. His wife, Margaret Haughton or Houghton died in 1786. They had issue:—

Bryan B. died aged 9.

Elinor B. mentioned in her father's and grandfather's wills.

Elizabeth B. do.

Sarah B. mentioned in her grandfather's will.

Mary B. mentioned in her father's and grandfather's wills.

2. BRYAN BLUNDELL of whom hereafter.

3. RICHARD BLUNDELL.

4. JONATHAN BLUNDELL of whom hereafter in Pedigree A.

1. ELIZABETH BLUNDELL died 1774. She married James Crosbie, who, as stated above, was dead 6 Nov., 1755. They had issue William C., Bryan C., James C., Mary C., who married
Bride and had issue: Elizabeth C. married Hamer, Margory C. married Statham.

2. MARY BLUNDELL died 1745 aged 35.

3. ANN BLUNDELL died 1720 aged 7.

4. FRANCIS BLUNDELL died 1722 aged 4.

MURGATROYD EVIDENCES.

This is a rough Catalogue of Deeds now in the possession of the representative of the ancient family of Murgatroyd of Greenhill, in Bingley, Yorkshire, who has kindly lent them for the purpose. It is hoped that as many of them are of early date, and many old families and properties are mentioned, they will be of general interest. Not having been arranged according to date or according to the various properties with which they are concerned, they are here given promiscuously as they came to hand. I do not profess to have made complete abstracts, but anyone desiring fuller information about any Deed can communicate with me through the Editor.

HERIOTS, &c., ON THE WAKEFIELD MANOR ROLLS.

The present Calendar commences in 1401, and will be carried down to 1500. The Heriots from 1501 to 1560 have been printed in previous numbers. These periods are chosen as being of most general interest to modern genealogists, who will thus be saved from going through the Rolls membrane by membrane, as there are no Docket Books or Indexes for this period. Practically all the entries of Heriots are here given, the few omitted being largely or entirely undecipherable.

WAKEFIELD MANOR ROLLS.

By the courtesy of the Editor of the Saturday Review we were allowed, in Vol. IV., page 125, to reprint a most interesting article on this Manor Court, entitled "A Great Court Leet." We now append the kindred article on "A Great Court Baron."

A. G.

A GREAT COURT BARON.

Recently we illustrated the origin and purpose of the Court Leet by some account of the proceedings still customary in the Manor of Wakefield, and by an inquiry into the nature of the jurisdiction of which, by successive enactments, the Leet has been shorn. The Court Baron, which is held in conjunction with the Leet, is concerned solely with the civil business of the lord, in his relationship with his tenants, and with the passing of certain by-laws; and its customs are very curious. Kitchen, whose quaint volume on the subject we quoted, gives a form of proclamation, in more than doubtful English for use at it, which differs somewhat from that now employed in the jurisdiction of the Manor of Wakefield, which we gave. Thus he has it:—"If any man will be Essoynd, and in Court Baron; if any will be Essoynd, or enter their Plaint, come you in, and you shall be heard."

Certainly the chief function of the Court Baron was to see that the lord got his fair profits out of the manor. If a customary tenant died, his son paid a fine of heriot, according to the property he acquired; if a man surrendered his land into the hands of the lord and a new tenant was admitted, the new tenant paid a fine also; and every copyholder of the manor paid a yearly rent to the lord. These were the profits which Saxon thanes and Norman grantees drew from their manorial possessions. In order that the fines and rents might be properly collected and duly supervised, the manors in the North of England were divided into graveships, in which the grave—an official with a Saxon name—had control of the matter. The surrenders of copyholds in the manor of Wakefield are made with a peculiar custom. The surrenderor and one of the copyholders severally take hold of a straw—in other places it may be a glove, a rod, or other symbol—attached to the instrument, and the former says aloud:—"I surrender the premises herein described into the hands of the Lord of the Manor of Wakefield to the uses herein expressed ;" whereupon the copyholder hands the deed to the steward, swearing on oath that he took it in the manner described, and the new tenant is admitted. But the feudal lord had other profits than those attached to the descent and transfer of property: Many of his tenants were compelled to contribute to the maintenance of the dam of the soke-mill, at which the men of the soke were obliged to grind their corn, paying the mulcture to the lord's miller. They paid also to the lord so much for foreign service, so much for their ploughs, so much for reaping—if they were men who kept fires in their houses ; they were compelled to plough and reap for him, and to assist the grave in driving cattle taken in distress ; they paid him so much apiece for their hogs, and so much for grinding malt ; and some of them had to assist in making the eldest son of the lord into a knight, and in marrying his daughter, and had to go a-hawking or a-hunting with him, at their own charges, whenever he came to his forest or chase. These illustrations of the rents and services of manorial tenants are taken from some of those which divers people, native and others, owed to John de Warren, last Earl of Warren and Surrey, Lord of the Manor of Wakefield, in the year 1314.

The Manor of Wakefield, with its nine large sub-feudalities, was in the King's hands when Domesday was compiled ; but it was granted, about 1095, to William de Warren, second Earl of Surrey, a great lord whose mother, it is said, had been the daughter of the Conqueror, and who had himself married the daughter of Hugh the Great, Earl of Vermandois. He was a somewhat turbulent baron, according to the wont of his family, but was humbled by a temporary deprivation of his estate in 1102, and in the rebellion of 1118 he stood faithful to the King. The Earl largely endowed the Priory of Lewes in Sussex, which his father had founded, and gave to it possessions in the Manor of Wakefield and the neighbourhood of his Castle of Conisborough, which would be cheap at ten thousand a year, and this he did in a charter of about twenty-five words. The new crusade was now being preached by St. Bernard, and William, the third Earl of Warren and Surrey, passed over into the Holy Land, where he was slain in 1148, leaving but one daughter, his heiress, who married William de Blois, son of King Stephen, and afterwards Hameline, a natural son of Geoffrey, Earl of Anjou. Hameline's grandson, John de Warren, the seventh earl, was a turbulent baron of independent spirit, who is celebrated for having attacked and severely wounded Alan de Zouch and his son in the King's Court at Westminster, and for his well-known reply to the quo warranto of Edward I., when, drawing a rusty blade, he declared that by the sword his ancestors had gained their lands, and by the sword he meant to defend them. Nevertheless the evil deeds of the Earl's seneschal, of his extortions in the forest of Sowerbyshire, and of his imprisoning people, without any right, at Conisborough and Wakefield, are recorded in the "Hundred Rolls." This sturdy baron was yet alive when his son, William de Warren, was killed in a tournament at Croydon on December 15, 1286, and he was succeeded by his grandson, John de Warren. This great noble, the last earl of his race, was a man of power in Edward II.'s days, albeit a wicked one, and he was a great thorn for years in that monarch's side. Numbered amongst those who did Gaveston to death, he was pardoned with the others who shared the crime; but he stood aloof from the King, and, with the Earls of Lancaster, Arundel, and Warwick, declined to join the Scotch expedition, and so was absent from his place at Bannockburn. Presently, however, he made his peace with the Crown, and, it is said, was even hand and glove with Edward, and it was with his connivance that Warren carried off the wife of the Earl of Lancaster. However, this might be, Lancaster's vengeance fell chiefly on Warren, whose Yorkshire castles were besieged, and, but for Royal interference, he might have been crushed. As it was, he had to surrender his manor of Wakefield as a make-peace to Lancaster, who possessed it until his death. It was not long before Warren's turbulent spirit began to show itself again, for we find him arrayed against the King on the Despenser question; but he made his peace once more, and joined Edward against Badlesmere. From that time he remained faithful—it was the best policy—and grew so much in Royal favour that he was a member of the Council of Edward III. This Earl of Warren led a truly unhappy life, for, though he had two wives, he left no legitimate children, and his illegitimate ones, to whom by a regrant from the King he had had his estates secured, all died in his lifetime. Before his death the Earl seems to have tried to be on better terms with religion, and he gave the rectory of Hatfield, in the manor of Wakefield, with considerable possessions, to the Abbey of Roche. When the Earl of Warren was dead, the manor, with his other Yorkshire estates, came into the hands of Edward III., who gave it to his son Edmund de Langley, from whom it descended to Richard, Duke of York, and to the Crown again in the person of Edward IV. It continued in the possession of the Kings of England until 1554, when it was united to the Duchy of Lancaster; but subsequently James I. granted it to Henry, Earl of Holland, who was beheaded because he had attempted to restore Charles II., and it passed by descent and sale through the hands of the Cliftons, the Claphams, and the Dukes of Leeds, to the present owner, Lord Conyers.

HERIOTS, &c., ON THE WAKEFIELD MANOR ROLLS.

The present Calendar commences in 1401, and will be carried down to 1500.

The Heriots from 1501 to 1560 have been printed in previous numbers. These periods are chosen as being of most general interest to modern genealogists, who will thus be saved from going through the Rolls membrane by membrane, as there are no Docket Books or Indexes for this period. Practically all the entries of Heriots are here given, the few omitted being largely or entirely undecipherable.

REDMAN EVIDENCES.

The following abstracts of original records relating to the Redman Family will form, I think, an useful supplement to the notes which have lately been appearing in the pages of "THE NORTHERN GENEALOGIST." I propose to include all the Inquisitions Post Mortem calendared in the four Record Volumes:—

I. Chancery Inq. p.m. 24 Edward III. 1st numbers No. 24.

Inquisition taken at Warton in co. Lancaster on the Octave of the Assumption, 24 Edw. III. after the death of—

John son of Adam de Redmane of Yeland.

The jury say he died seized of two-thirds of the manor of Yeland in co. Lancaster, with the reversion of the other third after the death of Ellen, formerly wife of the said Adam.

The manor is held of the king, of the lands formerly belonging to William de Coucy, now in the king's hands, and with suit at the Court of Thomas de Warton.

John died 4 April last.

His heirs are his sisters Margaret, æt 16, and Elizabeth, æt 15.

II. Chancery Inq. p.m. 43 Edw. III., pt. 2 (2nd Nos.) 32.

Only part of this relates to the alienations of Mathew de Redeman, for the Jury make similar returns as to alienations made by Ralph de Dacre, Lord de Gillesland, and Thomas de Ponertch. As, however, I do not know that the document has ever been printed, I prefer to give it in full, as it may interest others besides those concerned with Redman genealogies.

The translation of the above is as follows:—

Inquisition taken at Carlisle on Saturday after S. Mark's day, 42 Edward III., as to alienations made in Cumberland, etc., before Thomas de Musgrave, Escheator, by the oath of Giles de Orreton and others (named), who say on their oath that Mathew de Redeman of Allerdale alienated in fee one tenement within the dykes of Carlisle to Robert Corbett. Which Robert adhered to the Scots; and after the aforesaid adhesion, Emma de Hakenshow entered on the said tenement and alienated it in fee to William de Penworth hame, who died seised thereof. After whose death, John de Lailand, brother of the said William, entered upon the said tenement, and alienated it in fee to Christopher de Moriceby, and it is worth beyond the services owed to the community of Carlisle 3s. 4d. per annum.

And they say that Ralph de Dacre, Lord de Gillesland, alienated the Manors of Kirkoswald and Laisingby with their appurtenances, which are held of the Lord King in chief, to William de Beauchamp, rector of the church of Kirkoswald, and to William del Chaumbre, rector of the church of Dyketon, the license, therefore, of the Lord King not having been obtained. And they say that the same Lord Ralph imparted about 20 acres of land of the soil of Glassanby within the park of Kirkoswald, which (acres) are held of the Lord King in chief.

And they say that a certain Adam Nalleson adhered to the Scots; which Adam held messuage and 2 acres of land in Laisingby, which are worth per annum 2 shillings.

And they say that Thomas de Ponertch' who held of the King in chief two parts of the Manor of Lamanby with their appurtenances, alienated them to Roger Lord de Clyfford without the King's licence.

The tenements have been taken into the King's hands by the Escheator as he has acknowledged.

III. Chancery Inq. p.m., 12 Henry VI. No. 18.

Inquisition taken at Selby, co. Yorks., 1 March 12 Hen. VI., after the death of Elizabeth, formerly wife of Sir Richard Redeman, knight

The jury say she held for life the manor of Rughford, of the gift of Sir Brian de Stapilton, knight, her son ; reversion at her death to the said Sir Brian ; held of the heirs of Peter de Brus. The site of the manor is a waste place, with a little wood. There are 4 tofts, 100 acres of demesne lands, etc., and a 40s. rent issuing from 10 messuages in Rughford.

Elizabeth died 21 December, 5 Hen. V.

Brian de Stapilton, son of the aforesaid Sir Brian, is her heir, æt 21, on Friday after St. Leonard's day last.

The said Sir Richard Redeman occupied the manor from her death till he died, viz. : 22 May, 4 Hen. VI.

BLUNDELL OF LIVERPOOL.

BY GEORGE BLUNDELL LONGSTAFF.

Since the first instalment of this account of the Blundells of Liverpool appeared the Editor has been favoured by the inspection of a second pedigree of the Family, drawn up in January, 1899, by the Rev. Jonathan Blundell of Gloucester. It begins with the Bryan Blundell (son of William), who died in 1756, and states that he was "Treasurer (1714-56) and Promoter of the Blue Coat Hospital, Liverpool, in conjunction with the Rev. Robert Stythe, Rector of Liverpool." Additional information taken from this second pedigree will be here printed in italics.

V. BRYAN BLUNDELL (son of Bryan) of Liverpool, merchant. Mentioned in the wills of his father and his brother William. His own will, dated 27 March, 1781, with a codicil dated 5 Dec., 1789, was proved 2 Nov., 1795. He died in Liverpool in 1790, aged 69. He married in 1757 Anna Maria Pole, who died in 1821 aged 82. She was mentioned in her husband's will. Her own will was dated 21 Feb., and proved (under £7,000) 21 May, 1821. They had issue:—

1. BRYAN BLUNDELL, of whom hereafter.
2. WILLIAM BLUNDELL. Born 1764. Mentioned in his father's will. Executor of his mother's will. He died in Liverpool in 1842. He married in 1803 Sarah Dickson, and by her, who died in 1842, had issue:—

MARRIAGE BONDS OF THE PECULIAR JURISDICTION OF THE DEANERY OF YORK.

By T. B. Whytehead, Esq., Chapter Clerk.

EDITOR'S NOTE.—The Marriage Bonds and Affidavits for the Jurisdiction of the Dean and Chapter of York, preserved in the Zouche Chapel in York Minster, are in somewhat miscellaneous bundles, dating from 1656 to 1867. These, so far as found, have been printed in former volumes of THE NORTHERN GENEALOGIST down to 1738 (Vol. II. for 1896, Vol. III. for 1897-1900, Vol. IV. for 1901, Vol. V. for 1902). From this series I find that the three following bonds have been omitted. They should follow those in Vol. V., page 75:—

1737. Dec. 1. Robert Dixon of York, gent., aged 29, bachelor, and Mary Chesman of S. Sampson's York, aged 28, spinster. (At S. Sampson's or Osbaldwick.)

Dec. 10. Miles Dawson of Widdington, parish of Little Ouseburn, aged 30, bachelor, yeoman, and Elizth. Wilson of same place, aged 16, spinster. (In the Cathedral, S. Sampson or S. Lawrence.)

Dec. 16. Jacob Pimm of S. Michael le Belfry, York, soldier, aged 32, bachelor, and Ann Kirkland of Ripon, aged 26, widow. (At S. Michael le Belfry, S. Maurice or S. Cuthbert.)

The Dean and Chapter's Marriage Bonds for the several Vacancies of the See, that is to say, for the whole Diocese, in 1664, 1683-8, 1757, 1761, and 1776-7, have also been printed in THE NORTHERN GENEALOGIST (Vols. III. and IV.).

There are also bonds for two later vacancies, 1807-8 and 1847, which may be printed later.

The Dean and Chapter's Bonds, already printed, include not only their own peculiar jurisdiction, but also that of most of their prebends, extending over some 70 or 80 parishes in the City of York and the Counties of York, Nottingham, and Lancaster. Some of the Prebendaries issued their own Marriage Licences, which may be printed later.

These Dean and Chapter Bonds are put up in bundles of various periods, the dates often over-lapping each other, and the early ones have been calendared as they came to hand, a fact which will account for their appearing, now and then, out of their due order of date.

Besides the above there are also in the Zouche Chapel Marriage Bonds and Affidavits of the Peculiar Jurisdiction of the Deanery of York from 1721 to 1839. This includes about 20 parishes or townships in the neighbourhood of Pocklington and Pickering. These bonds are now printed here.

SALVEN V. MILLES.

Some Notes on an Old Matrimonial Case.

BY ALFRED GIBBONS, F.S.A.

In September, 1897, I was going through the Records of Convocation for the Archbishop and Convocation of York, and amongst the multitude of invaluable papers in the Archbishop's Registry, to which I had access for the purpose, was a volume labelled "Cons., 1534-1535." The abbreviation "Cons." had obviously been mistaken for "Conv.," and this was how a Consistory Court Book (for that is what this volume is), came to be amongst the Convocation Books.

Glancing through this volume to ascertain the nature of its contents, I soon came across some ecclesiastical cases of great interest, and amongst them the case which is the subject of this article. I had then as a valued client and correspondent a gentleman named Oswald Salvin, and I sent him a note of the case, as likely to be of interest to him. It did interest him, and he at once asked me to make him a précis of the proceedings, which are set out at very great length in this volume. This I did. Since then I have been informed by Mr. Salvin's relatives, to my sorrow, that he is dead, and I therefore feel that there can now be no harm in my using the rough notes which I made for him, in order to give my readers some account of the case, and to show them the marvellous value of the Court Books of the Consistory Court of the Archbishop of York.

Depositions such as these, besides recording particulars of the age, place of residence, and so forth, nowhere else to be found, of the witnesses themselves, give us an insight into the private life of the ancestors of many of us, and clothe their old dry bones with a life-likeness, which can be obtained from no other records that I am acquainted with.

The suit was between Stephen Mylles and Lady Anne Salven, and on the 26th of August, 1534, and subsequent dates, the following Depositions of Witnesses were taken, and are entered in this volume, partly in Latin and partly in English, but here I have put them all in the latter language, leaving the original spelling, where originally in English.

York, September, 1903.

A. GIBBONS.

1534. August 17. Stephen Mylles gent. constitutes Master John Todd, Christopher Beysley, Thomas Standevyn, and John Wright his proctors; who ask for a citation against Lady Anne Salven. And a day is assigned.

1534. August 21. Formal proceedings.

1534. Aug. 26. Mylles v. Salven. ROBERT STEWARDE, valet ("serviens de roba"), of Sir Roger Chomley Knight, aged 28, born in Huton Cranswyk. Says he was in the service of Mr. George Hussey 10 years, and since then of the said Chomley—living in St. Sampson' parish, York—of free condition—has known Lady Anne Salven 12 years, and Mylles 9 or 10.

Says it chaunced this Deponent to go to Newbigging to speke with one Gordone, my lady Salven's mynstrell, on the Wednesday or ffriday in Ester weke now last past, and this Deponent saith that Stephen Mylles desired him to tarry there that nyght to here such premysses and communicacon as he and my lady Anne Salven shuld have together, at whos request this Deponent did tarry and weyted in the hall of Newbyging aforesaide the said nyght, unto x. or xi. of the clok in the nyght. At which tyme my lady Anne, beyng only in her kyrtill, having her nyght gere on her hede, and a blake hatt on yt, came downe owt of her chamber, wyth a lyght candell in her hande, thorow a litle entrey betwene the hall and the steres of her chamber, into the saide hall of Newbigging and sett downe the candell upon the hiegher end of the bench in the hall, and then she said to the saide Stephen, being present, "Stephen, I am come for to kepe my promise, that for the good will that I had to you and haveth, and to shew you further of my mynde." And Stephen Mylles answerede and said, "Madame, I thanke you." And then they both (as this Deponent saith) satt downe upon the said bench, and incontinent my lady Anne said, "Stephen, Stephen, I am content to take you to my husbonde," And he said, "Madame, I thanke you, and I am content to take you to my wyff." And then the saide Stephen said to my lady, "Madame, geve me yor. hande, and Madame, I wold that you wold make to me as fair a promyse as I wold make unto you." And my lady answered, "Say on. What somever it be, I am contented." And then the same Stephen, havynge my saide lady Anne by hande, said to her, "Here I take the Anne to my wiff, for better, for worse, till deth us departe (sic). And therto I plight the my troeth. "And in like manner my saide lady Anne, having the saide Stephen by the hande, said to him, "Here I take the Stephen to my husbond, to have and to hold till deth us depart. And therto I plight the my troeth." And the saide lady Anne delivered to the saide Stephen a ring of gold, as far as this Deponent cold perceive, because it was candellyght, and the same Stephen gave her a nother ryng. And ther after my lady Anne aforesaide toke the candell in her hande, and the said Stephen toke her by the arme, and went in the entrey abovesaid toward her chamber. And so this Deponent saw them no more that nyght. as he saith. Cross-examined, he says Bartram alias Bartholomew Horne and Richard Skelton were ther also, and no others so far as he knows.

1534. Aug. 26. RICHARD SKELTON, servant and tenant of Sir Ralph Salven knt. while he lived, and still servant and tenant of lady

Anne Salven his wife, born in Wilton par. Elarburne, aged 30, has known Lady Anne 8 years and more, and Mylles the same time. Says he chaunced to be at Newbygging to speke with Stephen Mylles for a gressom of a tenent of his, dwelling in Righton beyond Hononby, upon Wednesday or ffriday in Ester Weke last past, and then Stephen Mylles desired this deponent to tarry there that nyght and (almost the same words as in the last deposition).

1534. Aug. 26. On the petition of Stephen Mylles against Lady Anne Salven.

BARTRAM ALS. BARTHOLOMEW HORNE, servant of Mr. George Salven, aged 36. Has been in the service of the saide Mr. George since the death of Sir Ralph Salven, and in the service of the saide Sir Ralph 15 years. Born at Little Nornanby par. Eston, of free condition. Has known Lady Anne from years of descretion, ever since he cold know anyone, and Mylles about 11 years, since the saide Stephen was in Sir Ralph's service.

Says that upon Sherthursday last past, Sr. Raff Salven his Mr. was buried. And then on Wednesday or ffriday in the Ester weke last past, as this Deponent doth say, Stephen Mylles came to this Deponent about iiij. of the clocke after nowne, and desired him to take the pane to weyt that nyght unto my ladyes comyng to here such communication as shuld be bytwixt my saide lady Anne Salven and Stephen Mylles, for as he saith Stephen Mylles shewed him that my lady aforesaid wold come that nyght and have communication wyth him, and kepe that promise that she had made to him before that tyme. And this Deponent, at the request of the saide Stephen, sate up in the hall of Newbyggyng unto x. or xi. a cloke of the nyght as he thinketh. At which tyme my saide lady came down out of her chamber in to the saide hall wyth a candell in her hande, and sett downe the candell on the bench in the higher end of the same hall, and then my saide lady. as this Deponent saith, satt downe on the same bench. and Stephen Milles came to her, and satt downe beside her, and toke her by the hande, and then my lady said (almost the same words as in the previous Depositions).

Cross-examined, says that she had on a kyrtyll wt. owt any gowne, and her nyght ger on, and a blak hatt. but of what thing her kyrtill was he can not tell.

1534. Oct. 1. Personal answers of Lady Anne Salven to interrogatories on the part of Stephen Mylles. Denies all the articles.

Oct. 10. XPOFER MALTBY, "pistarius," of Thornewton in Pickering lith, aged 40, born at Whitby Stronde, of free condition. Saith he has known Lady Anne Salven 11 years; and Mylles 8. Speaks to the fame of the marriage.

JOHN GLASENBIE, servant of Sir Ralph Everes, senior: aged 28, born at Guysborne. Has known Lady Anne 12, and Mylles 9 years. Speaks to the fame of the marriage.

Cross-examined, says the fame is caused by the familiarity between Lady Anne and Mylles.

RICHARD HOMBLETON, shoemaker, of Pickering, aged 40, has known Lady Anne 14 years, and Mylles from the time that he was first in Lady Annes service.

CHRISTOFER TODDE of Thornton, where he has lived about 30 years, aged 36. Has known the parties about 7 years. Says Robert Steward was in the parish of Thornton both upon Tuesday and Wensday in Ester wek last past. That the said Robt. Steward is mynstrell to Master Chomley of Rousbie within halfe a mile of Thornton, and this Deponent and he were bargaynyng for a nagge upon the tuesday in Ester wek at after non at Thornton with in the howse of Xpofer Maltbie there, wich nagge this Deponent sold unto the saide Robt. Steward the Wensday in Ester wek at after none and delyvered hym the same day about nyght at the howse of Alice Sourell widowe of the same parish, there then beyng present many of his neiburs, wich he doth not now remember as he saith; but he saith that Xpofer Maltbie, George Vasie, Richd. White, and John White were present when this Deponent and the said Robt. Steward were agreed of a price for the same nagge.

MARMADUKE CHOMLEY, "filius naturalis domini Rogeri Chomley de Ronsbie, militis, æt. xiiij. annorum." Has known Lady Anne 3 years, and Stephen 1 year. Says that Robt. Steward did lie the (Tuesday) and Wensday at nightes in Ester wek last past at Rousbie within the howse of this Deponent's fader. Examined, says that the saide Robert Steward did lie the tewsday at night ther by hymselfe alone, for this Deponent with other of his father's servauntes did se hym there by viij. a clock in the mornyng, and upon Wensday all night the saide Roberte did lye with this Deponent, Guie Beilbie, and Henrie Chomley al togeder in oon bedd in the olde parlor. Has no consanguinity or affinity to either party.

GEORGE BEILBIE of Rousbie, servant to Mr. Roger Chomley, where he has been xij. years, æt. 18. Has known the parties 3 years. Says that Robt. Steward was continually at Rousbie within Master Chomley his howse or els at Thornton from Ester day last past unto Thursday in the morninge then next folloyng, from the true sight and certain knowledge of the saide Deponent, and upon the tewsday at night at Rousbie in the new parlor. chamber, and upon Wensday at nyght with this Deponent, Marmaduk and Henrie Chomley, sones to Master Roger Chomley all togeder in oon bedd in the old parlor, at Rousbie.

CHRISTOPHER MALTBIE of Thornton, æt. 36. Has known the parties 7 years. Says that Robt. Steward was in the howse of this Deponent upon tewsday at after none about ij. a clock in Ester wek last past, but wher he lay that night this Deponent can not tell. Also he saith that the saide Robt. Steward was in the howse of Alice Sourell on Wensday in Ester wek at after none and there receyved a horse wiche he bought of Xpofer Todde, but wher he laye that night this Deponent can not tell.

MARGARET FULTHORPE of Bagbie æt. 40. Has known Lady Ann Salven from years of discretion, and Stephen Milles v. or vj. years. Says that Deponent is suster naturall unto dame Anne Salven, and she came to her to Newbigging to comfort her after the dethe of her husbonde, the Wensday at night in Ester wek laste paste, and taried there unto Setterday then next folloyng that the saide lady Salven went to Pykering lith: also she saithe that the same dame Anne Salven came not in her hall nor in any other place furth of the tower of Newbygging (except the chapell to her masse), from the forsaid Wensday at night unto Satterday that she rode as is aforesaide, by the wiche tyme this Deponent and Margerye ffulthorpe her doughter were never a wey frome her nother day nor night, for this Deponent did lye with her styl every nyght in one bedde, and Margery ffulthorpe did lye upon a pallott by them, so that my ladye Salven and the saide Stephen Milles cold not talk nor mak any contract togeder, except this Deponent or Margerye her doughter shold se or here them. Also she saith by the vertue of her oth that by that space nother my lady did se Stephyn, nor he her as she saithe.

JOHN MILBURN of Egton æt. 46, has known lady Anne Salven 26 years, and Stephen Miles 7. Says that this Deponent is, and haith ben chamberlen to Sr. Ralf Salven and my ladye Salven by the space of xxiiij. yere and he was present with my ladie Salven in the tower of Newbiggyng from fryday at iij. a clock after none in Ester wek last past unto Setterday mornynge, when she rode to Pykering lieth, and this Deponent saith that he and John Salven dyd lie togeder all yt. frydaye nyght in a lower parlor within the tower, and my ladye Anne Salven, Maistres fulthorpe and her doughter did lye all above them in the saide tower. Examyned wether she came in to the hall that nyght or not, he saith no, for she cold not come except this Deponent had herde her, for she must nedes come by his chambre dore, also he was with her when she had put of her gowne, and mistres fulthorpe her syster and she wer goyng to bedd togeder. Examined as to whether he believed that Bartholomew Horne and Richd. Skelton were ther on the Friday, he said no, and thoghe ther wer yet non of them came in my ladies presence for if thei had comen in her presence this Deponent shold have senø them because he was with my ladie till she went to bedd.

EDWARD FFROTHINGHAM, servant to Mr. Thomas Dalarever of Bransbye, æt. 24, has known the parties 3 years. Says that Deponent was in the tower of Newbiggyng upon ffriday in Ester wek last past from ij. or iij. of the clock at after none wrytyng of oon inventory of such stuff as was there in her chambre onto x. or xj. a clock within night, by the wiche space my ladie Salven came not furth of her chambre as he saithe.

Also he saithe this Deponent and Robert Steward did lie bothe togeder over the porch entryng into the hall, and Stephen Milles did lie in the same chambre by them, but he herde no worde of any contract maide that night nor any other tyme, and he saith that Barthol' Horne and Rich. Skelton wer not ther that day as he saithe. For if they had, he shold have sene them or herd tell of them. Cross-examined, says he believes the articles not to be true, by cause the said Horne Skelton and Stewarde be nedye ffellowes and thoght to have had a lyving or a rewarde by Stephyn Milles if yei. cold bring his matter to passe.

WILLIAM VYNTENER of Logginton, æt. 48, has known lady Anne 20 years and Milles 7. Says that this Deponent, Stephen Milles, and Sr. Richard Bellerbye, dean of Pykering, came rydyng togeder from Whitbie to Newbigging about vj. a clock at after none the ffryday in Ester wek laste paste, and my lady Salven commanded this Deponent and Sr. Richard Bellerby to kepe company with her in the tower of Newbiggyng, ther than beyng Mastres fulthorp, syster to my ladye Salven and Maistres M'gery ffulthorp, and they were ther makyng merye from that tyme unto x. or xj. of the clock, and for all that space this Deponent saith my ladye went not forth of the same tower, and he saith that Bartram Horne went away thens on the Thursday before, and so my lady Salven told this Deponent, as he saithe.

JOHN CHAPMAN of Egton, æt. 40. Has known the parties 8 years; says that Stephyn Milles was drinking and makyng merye in this Deponents howse the ffriday in Ester wek last past from viij. of the clock at night onto ij. of the clock after mydnight, ther present withe hym this Deponent and his wiff, Master Will. Hedlam, Master John Salven. Robt. Stewarde, and John Reede, and he saith they went not thens whiles it was nere brake of daye.

Cross-examined, he says this the said Robt. Stewarde satte in this Deponent's howse drinking and playing the same ffriday at night, most parte of the after none and all night whiles hit was daye, and was so dronken that no man cold get hym thens. That John Meyde told this Deponent in Newbiggyng park that he wold mak goode upon a boke he never spaik such wordes as Rauff Graistok put upon hym. Knows Robt. Steward was dronk by cause he was so full of brallyng and chiding, and a man might well perceyve by his wordes that he was dronke.

JOHN SALVEN of Egton, æt. 32. Has known the parties xj. years. Says that this Deponent, Stephyn Milles, Robt. Steward, Rauff Hedlam, and William Hedlam, with John Reede, John Warde, and Gordan were makyng mery in John Chapmans howse at Newbygyng the ffryday at nyght from vij. a clock at after none tyl hit was past mydnyght and nother the saide Milles nor Robt. Steward departed thens before that tyme as this Deponent sayth "vinculo juramenti." The said Robt. Steward was so dronken he wold have fought and brallyd with any man there.

RICHD. ANDERSON of Egton, æt. 20. Has known the parties 8 years. This Deponent was drinking at Chapman's howse, etc., as before.

JOHN REEDE of Thirkilbye, æt. 58. Has known Lady Ann 20 years, and Stephen Milles 7 years. Was also drinking, etc., as before.

JOHN WARDE of Bagbie, æt. 27. Has known the parties about 3 years. Was also drinking, etc.

WILLIAM HALL, bailiff of Egton, aged 36 years or thereabouts, born in the parish of Chester, Durham Diocese, servant of Sir John Bulmer, with whom he has remained in servie 14 years, of free condition, says that he has known Stephen Mylles for 5 years and the Lady Anne Salvan from her childhood. He says that in the parish of Egton and in all other parishes thereabout the comyn fame and saying is that Stephan Mylles and my lady Anne Salvan be sure together and that he hath contracted matrimony wt. her. Being questioned he says that that is a fame that many men speketh of, and that ther is no other communication in all the ale houses ther but of the maryage between the said Stephen and my lady.

ROBERT GRASTOK, aged 33 years, born in the parish of Egton, where he has been for the greater part of his life, of free condition, has known Mylles 10 years and Lady Anne 20 years. Says the comyn fame is that Stephen Mylles and my lady Anne Salven have made a contract of matrimony together and that he should marye her. Heard it from John Mede, servant of Lady Anne Salven, and during the past fortnight in M . . . (illegible) Castle Westmorland from the servants of Sir Francis Bygott and many others.

(Witness's name gone), aged 40, servant of Mr. George Salven, born in Hinderwell parish.

Has known Mylles 5 years, and Lady Anne 15 years. Says the fame in Egton, Whitby, and thereabouts is that Stephen Mylles and my lady Anne Salven be sure and handefast together, and that they have mad a contract of matrimony together.

JAMES RICARDSON, servant of Mr. George Salven, aged 28, born at Egton. Has been in the said service from years of discretion, and has known Stephen Mylles 7 years, and dame Anne during his service. Hath herd it said of many folkes, both of Egton and Whitby, etc., especially John Chapman and John Byrkehill of Egton. Has laboured in the Church ale house and feldes sens May last past and heard it.

WILLIAM SLEGTHOLME, servant of Mr. George Salven, aged 23, born at Gotlande. Has known Mylles 7 years and Lady Anne ten: speaks as to the fame.

WILLIAM BRAKEN, glover, servant of Mr. George Salven, æt. 40, born at Egton, has known Mylles 15 years and Lady Anne for same time. Says that the familiarities between Mylles and Lady Anne caused the fame.

(The result of the suit does not appear in the volume.)

LINCOLN MARRIAGE LICENCES.

This is an alphabetical Calendar (continued from Vol. V., page 13) in succession to those printed in Gibbons' "Lincoln Marriage Licences." It is compiled from several different sources, the following abbreviations being used to denote which source:—

Ael.—Liber Aelmer, Linc. Archid.

Act Book.—Consistory Court Act Books of Wills, &c.

D.—"Marriage Bonds (Divers Years)" in brown paper covers.

C.—Bishop Chaderton's Register.

F.—Faculty Book, 1611-1693.

Licences not marked with one of these abbreviations are from the Marriage Bonds (which the Editor arranged in portfolios, according to date, some years ago), supplemented by the allegations where forthcoming.

The pre-Reformation Marriage Dispensations in the Bishop's Registers are not included in this Series.

Richmondshire Wills

(EASTERN DEANERIES),

Being a Calendar to the Probate Records formerly in the custody of the Archdeacon of Richmond.

[This Calendar comprises the Deaneries of Boroughbridge, Catterick, and Richmond; and the present portion includes everything which now exists, prior to the year 1617. There were formerly eight registers, respectively described as + ("cross"), A, B, C, D, E, F, and G; of these only +, B, C, D, and F, are now extant,—or at any rate in official custody,—and in the case of + and B, some of the folios are wanting. Unless a reference be cited, it must be understood that the original only is producible, and where it happens that both original and registered copy exist, then the reference is printed in italics. The letters W, A, I, B, or T, stand for Will, Admon.-Act, Inventory, Bond, or Tuition, as the case may be. The transcription is from the Official Calendar—a monument of care—of recent compilation, and the whole of the Records are now in the Principal Probate Registry, at Somerset House, London.]
